Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Cornish See Cathedral: Historical Architectural Notes The special circumstances of the Cornish See and Cathedral seem to demand some particular notice and record. The revival of an ancient Bishopric, merged and absorbed into another for 830 years, and the building of a new Cathedral, arc events for which it is not easy to find parallels in the history of this Church and Realm. I he Consecration of the Cathedral at Truro on November 3rd, 1887, is the first instance of the kind in England since the Reformation. There was the consecration of St. Paul s, rebuilt by Sir Christopher Wren after the destruction of Old St. Paul s in the great fire of London in 1666. There have been built in Scotland, Ireland, and the Colonies, Cathedrals of varying size and magnificence during the last quarter of a century; but in recent times no such event as the consecration of a newly-founded Cathedral has taken place in the Church of England; in that body which historically and ecclesiastically is one with the ancient Church...
