It was not unusual for a proprietor to let his land to a farmer to work; that is, to a capitalist who paid him a rent for the right to work his land and who supplied all the machinery, animals, etc. , necessary for the work and profit of the land. These farmers were very rich men, and in some cases took the farming of many estates; one man had the farming of half a province. In 1900 some of the peasants, who saw great profits being made by the farmers, thought that by forming cooperative societies for hiring land they could make these profits for themselves, and accordingly they formed societies. Before the War no less...
