

The Choc-E-Bar Girl (Paperback)

By MR Barry Haves

Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 216 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .On leaving the Army, Robert Bond found work at the Eastern Regional Headquarters of the Government Bureaucracy Corporation (GBC), in the monstrous concrete-and-glass Stellar Tower. Army life was straightforward but here things were not always what they appeared - and he began to think there was something odd about the building itself. He d recently been through an acrimonious divorce and fell for the beautiful receptionist, Drusilla, a resting actress. In her youth Drusilla had found fame as the choc-E-bar girl in TV adverts, but her career had been blighted when she was charged with the murder of her husband, although she had been acquitted. Her second brief marriage to a GBC Director ended with his sudden death from a heart attack which led to certain speculation, and she became known to some of her colleagues as the Black Widow. Robert liked his new job and liked his colleagues, and began an affair with Drusilla, but it transpired that Andrew Worthy, head of the Communications Department in which Robert was employed, also wanted Drusilla. In a forthcoming departmental...
